

Please note my concern over the possible displacement of my FM station, K-LOVE, by a LPFM station. I rely on K-LOVE to encourage me with its music and comments and inform me with impartial news coverage. I also benefit from their short comments from guest speakers. They also give cause me to examine my life and situations to see if changes need to take place.

There would be a very big void left in my community if we did not have the positive message of this station. We also live in tornado alley, and this station does break in with severe weather advisories from the National weather service when warranted. This service could save lives. This station keeps us connected with other people of our faith across the nation by sharing concert and Christian gatherings information.

When a local highway patrol trooper was killed last December, this station sent representatives to his church and family to get this godly man's story. They were met by the trooper's wife, who sang the K-LOVE jingle upon their meeting. I have already mentioned the severe weather coverage that we depend on. I love hearing what positive things other communities across our nation are doing. This station's website also allows us to have personal input in programming. This station's PSA on "registering to vote" caused me to register to vote in this election. We need K-LOVE.

Carolyn Copus